Have students create a chart of local bus lines and fares. Have them calculate travel time and expense for both a bus and a car. Have them decide which is most feasible when commuting to the furthest side of town.

Have students research and compare quality of care in a free clinic to an ER. Have them further research and compare insurance deductibles and co pays for minors. Have them decide which insurance would be the most feasible for a two income family of four.

Have students bring in their baby pictures and tell an anecdote from their childhood.

Have students create a scrapbook of what fatherhood means to them and present it to their fathers.
